

urbanculture furniture + ZENITH = SUCCESS

We are very pleased to announce Urban Culture in Adelaide is now part of our Zenith Group.

Urban Culture is a highly respected commercial furniture business with very good synergies and cultural fit to our organization.

The acquisition of Urban Culture strengthens the Zenith vision to provide a national service to our customers.

This alliance will provide major opportunities and benefits for all our clients in South Australia with a wider range of products and ability to service national contracts.

Zenith is a leader in the design manufacture and distribution of workstations, task seating, storage, and loose furniture.

Zenith represents both Australian and internationally designed products such as Allermuir, Senator, Woodmark, Keith Melbourne, David Walley, Babak Aryaie, Bang Design and collaborating with KeZu for Enea, EMU & Aichi.

In October 09, Zenith became the national Australian distributor and manufacturer for the high profile Formway products including the Life Chair and Hum workstation system.

We welcome the Urban Culture staff to our Zenith family and are extremely confident about their future success as they continue to provide the high level of service that their South Australia clients are accustomed to.
